

Mediums & Spirit Guides

Sharing Knowledge and Information

[/www mediums-spiritguides.com](http://www mediums-spiritguides.com)

/tvbwebmaster@yahoo.co.uk

White Feather Talks about Spiritual Gifts, Reincarnation & Service

“It has always been a great honour and privilege for me to speak through this instrument to you who are seekers of truth for it enables me once more to take up the palette of knowledge and wisdom that I may add a little more colour to the canvas of your understanding. For as I have said so frequently, it is truth that is the liberator of souls. It is truth that sets the individual and the collective, which is humanity, free from its self imposed prison and enables it to soar like a bird into the infinite planes of truth and understanding.

Some of you I know, I have spoken to before, many of you I have not, but my message is the same to you all for the Great Spirit does not recognise many of the boundaries and barriers that are imposed upon the physical form. The Great Spirit pay no homage and adherence to no creed, no dogma or religion. The Great Spirit is not black or white or red or yellow. The Great Spirit IS and you are part of the Great Spirit. You have always been and always will be. You are infinite, eternal and deathless.”

“Like you I am part of that same Great Spirit. I am not a deity, I am human as you are. But I always reiterate this point to those who may be in awe. You have nothing to be in awe of because I am like you, human in every regard. I have a body just as you do. The only difference is that it vibrates on a finer link, on a finer energy than does your physical body of matter. In that respect I function on a higher plane. That does not mean that I am better than you, that I am greater than you in any way. It only means that I have been able to slough off the physical body and retain the etheric, astral and spirit bodies which enable me to function at this level. It is not my intention to lecture you, because I seek not to preach any dogma, I seek only to impart a few simple truths that may appeal to your reasoning capacity and anything that I say which offends that, you are at liberty to reject. For I seek to win you over not by brut force or by stating something is fact which must be accepted without question, I seek to enable your reasoning minds to intervene and to operate for you, that you may come into your own understanding.

I want to say a few brief words about what I refer to as 'gifts'. I do not mean the kind of gifts that you impart to another at anniversaries and birthdays and suchlike, I am referring to the gifts of the spirit which each of you have in some degree. Because you are all gifted, you all have gifts of the spirit whether or not you employ them. Whether you utilise them in your day to day lives is another matter, but you have them nevertheless. But why is it that you have gifts? Why is it that some seem to have more gifts than others? That some seem endowed with greater gifts than others, supposedly? To understand this, on the face of it, simple question, perhaps requires that you undertake a simple study and become aware of the basic principles of life itself. Because let me say to you.....and I have never shied away from the difficult topic of reincarnation, that you acquire gifts over a period of time which involves more often than not, many lifetimes of living upon the physical world of matter. And through these experiences, through learning the lesson of life which you encounter, the soul is quickened, the spirit enriched and you earn by right the acquisition of certain gifts.

Now you may say that 'this is all very well White Feather, but have you not stated before that it is never the totality of the self that comes into the body of matter when it reincarnates? That there are many facets, like there are many sides to a diamond, and that it is only one facet that reintroduces itself into a new body?' That is a fact, but what you must understand is that even though you cannot recall in this conscious state, your past lives, even though you cannot remember them and there are very good reasons why that applies, nevertheless the gifts that you have earned and have accumulated through your past lives, you carry with you into your future experiences. It would not be right would it for you to have earned something only for it to be taken away from you or stored on a shelf for use at some later date? You must understand that whatever you acquire, it adds to the lustre of the diamond and when a facet comes into the physical world as it invariably does, to reintroduce itself into the body of matter that it might outwork a karmic debt or render a particular service to humanity it brings with it those gifts that it has earned.

How often have you seen what is referred to as a 'child prodigy'? One who is young of age in your world and yet is an old soul. One who perhaps has wondrous gifts? Perhaps one who can play a piano or an instrument, or who has the gift of healing? One who can speak, who has acquired a great knowledge at an early age and you say 'yes, they are a genius'. But could it be that they are bringing those gifts with them because they have earned them in their past experiences, their past lives? This is what you must recognise.

You have earthly gifts, you have material gifts and you have spiritual gifts which endure from life to life. They endure beyond time because YOU are beyond time in the physical sense and when you have earned them nobody can take anything away from you once you have earned it, whatever it is. Whether it be 'bad' or 'good' it is there, indelibly written on the index of your soul and I say to you this; that if you are able to look at an evolved soul in my world and look at the index of that soul, you will see that written there for all time is the good and the bad, the light and the dark, the negative and the positive aspects of everything that soul has undertaken. Because what you are, as you have created yourselves, is there. You cannot hide it. You can wear a persona in your world, you can put a mask on, you can clothe your body, you can wear make-up, you can do all manner of things to disguise what is beneath, but in the eyes of spirit you are naked. You are as you have created yourselves and that you must understand. That is why it is so important that if you have gifts which you think of as being insignificant, you utilise them.

Service you know, comes in many forms. People think that to give service of the spirit you must be a great healer or a great clairvoyant or a great orator, you must stand upon the platform or have books published or articles written about you. The great soul can work in the field, upon the street, within the quiet sanctuary, unnoticed, unheard, unseen by many eyes and yet that soul touches other souls. It reaches minds, it touches hearts and that is the greatest gift of service. It is service that is the passport of the spirit. It is service that is the coin of the soul with which you tarry. It is service that equips you with the means to move onwards and to reach out into the great spiritual realms wherein lie all the gifts that the spirit has to offer.

There is much more that I could say to you but I don't want to take up any more of your valuable time. Let me just say before I start, there are many souls in this your temple tonight. Many souls. Not just those who sit upon these seats, but many from my world who have gathered here. Who number over a thousand and who come to join with you to listen, to enjoy and to understand the wondrous power of the spirit as it seeks to flow into your world, bringing all the richness and beneficence that it has to offer."

Taken From: In the Presence of White Feather